Fellow Responders:

The Continuing Challenge Hazardous Materials Committee hopes that the 2020 Spring Newsletter finds you and your families doing well, in good health and meeting the COVID-19 shelter in place directive in good spirits. These are unprecedented times, and we know that many of you are on the front lines dealing with the challenges this pandemic has created as you serve the public. We would like to thank you for your service and the many sacrifices you make to perform your jobs.

We want to let you know that we are committed to having the 2020 HazMat Workshop September 8 – 11. The shelter in place directive has created many uncertainties and challenges in planning, but we continue to operate on the assumption that most, or all, of the restrictions will be lifted in the coming months. With a little more dedicated social distancing, and some luck, we anticipate a successful 31st Annual Workshop. Look for future Newsletters, Email and Website updates as we move forward. We look forward to seeing everyone at the Workshop in September!

Stay Safe,
The Continuing Challenge Hazardous Materials Committee

2020 Continuing Challenge Awards — by Bob Hamilton

Each year, The Continuing Challenge Workshop honors excellence in the field of hazardous materials response with the annual awards program. We have a total of five awards that may be granted on an annual basis with a maximum of one award per category.

Any person or organization may nominate individuals or organizations (from anywhere in the world) in any of the appropriate categories by completing a nomination form. The form is available in the Awards section of the Continuing Challenge website at www.hazmat.org.

The following are the awards which may be bestowed by the Committee.

- The William J. Patterson Lifetime Achievement Award
- The James H. Meidl Instructor of the Year Award
- The Continuing Challenge Medal of Valor
- The Robert P. Turkington Innovation and Technology Award
